Register Now for the Eastern Pennsylvania Greenways & Trails Summit

Anyone involved in planning, designing, hiking or marketing the Lehigh Valley's trail network will have a chance to bolster their craft at the 2018 Eastern PA Greenways & Trail Summit, Oct. 1-2 at the ArtsQuest Center at SteelStacks in Bethlehem.

The event will include 19 breakout sessions over two days, a keynote speech by environmental conservation professional Laura Johnston and a lunchtime address by Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources Secretary Cindy Adams Dunn.

The LVPC will conduct two presentations at the summit. LVPC Executive Director Becky Bradley and Director of Environmental Planning Geoff Reese will present "Walk/BikeLV: A New Regional Vision for Trails as Transportation", and LVPC Urban Design Planner Whitney Burdge and Senior Planning Technician Brian Hite will present "Connect the Dots for Stronger, Multimodal Communities."

Summit attendees will also be eligible to participate in outdoor activities that will include an industrial history walk scheduled for Sunday, September 30.

The event is run by the Delaware & Lehigh National Heritage Corridor. Registration is now open.
