LVPC Extends Board Officers

The Lehigh Valley Planning Commission approved its board leadership through 2023, and bid farewell to three members whose terms expired at the close of 2022.

The 37-member board, during its annual meeting in December, re-upped its slate of officers, with Stephen L. Glickman as chairman, Dr. Christopher Amato as vice chair and Kevin Schmidt as treasurer.

LVPC officers can serve for two years in those positions. Glickman, RA, CSI, is an Easton architect and 24-year Commission member who previously served as Chair in 2010-2011. Amato is a Bethlehem chiropractor from Walnutport, and Schmidt is President of Neff's National Bank in Whitehall Township.

The board also said good-bye to board members Liesel Dreisbach, Susan Lawless and Gerald Yob. Driesbach has been a board member since 2009, including serving as the Chair in 2016-17. Yob has been on the board since 2018 and Lawless came to the board in 2019.

"It has been a privilege to serve for a number of years", Dreisbach said. "I'd like to express my continued appreciation for the leadership of Becky and for all the hard work that is required, and delivered by the LVPC staff."

Lawless said her commitment to the board does not end with her departure.

"I've learned so much in my four years," Lawless said. "It definitely has made me a better public servant for my community."
